Premiere Photography Show:
“LEADERS AND THEIR FOLLOWERS”
OPENS CHERRY CREEK NORTH

Denver – July 29, 2008 – GALLERY M in Cherry Creek North is proud to host a two-part show called “LEADERS AND THEIR FOLLOWERS.” This is a vintage and modern photography exhibit that coincides with Denver’s Democratic National Convention and current economic events. Leaders and Their Followers opens August 1 when the public and collectors have a pre-convention opportunity to collect more than 80 works from the archives of LIFE, Associated Press and select Pulitzer Prize winners. This show continues through November 30.

Photos from renowned photographers such as, Neil Leifer (Ali/Liston), Alfred Eisenstaedt (VJ DAY and Kennedy in the Oval Office), Margaret Bourke-White (Gandhi), John Dominis (Black Power Salute, Mexico Olympics) and Leonard McCombe (Cowboy, 1949) are just some available.

GALLERY M is also hosting a special energy symposium on August 18th. “Energy and Wind,” moderated by Morey Wolfson, energy and utility expert and program manager to Colorado Governor Bill Ritter on energy policy. Mr. Wolfson will guide attendees through the controversial options available to Coloradoans and Americans this voting season related to our energy independence. Mr. Wolfson has been amongst others an advisor to state and national energy commissions, corporations as well as a respected contributor at NREL in Golden. This unique discussion will feature national oil and gas, utility and consumer advocates and begins at 7 pm. Cover charge is $25. A select screening of the documentary “LUBIE LOVE” – How America loves to drive and is addicted to oil – will also debut.

Last minute invitations are available by placing an RSVP at GALLERYM.COM.
